EMBASSY AND GNBCC COLLABORATION

Embassy of the Kingdom of Netherlands prioritizes horticulture, cocoa, youth, and agribusiness. The Ghana Netherlands Business and Culture Council (GNBCC) supports this through the Private Sector Development (PSD) project, giving rise to the Horticulture Business Platform (HBP).

WHAT IS HBP ABOUT?

Horticulture Business Platform (HBP) is a business platform that brings together farmers, SMEs, Input Suppliers, farmer-based groups and all players within the Horticulture Value Chain to engage under one platform for common interest and to influence policy.

VISION

The vision of the HBP is to become a business platform that represents the interest of all actors along the Ghanaian Horticulture value chain with the ability to influence national policy decisions.

MISSION

The mission of the HBP is to promote interest of its members by providing advocacy, market information, public-private dialogue, networking opportunities, trade missions, supported training, capacity building, access to finance, business development services and access to sector information.

OUR CORE OBJECTIVES

- Promote the business interests of members
- Bring all sector players together and amplify their activities in the sector
- Explore potential international business opportunities through partnership and trade related activities
- Create a network of buyers, agents, suppliers and key government contacts in Ghana and the Netherlands and expand into the rest of Europe
- Explore avenues to ensure market access to product and services for the horticulture sector
